"Run Down."

"Recommended
by my Doctor."

Dear Sirs—I am in the teaching profession, and whenever I get "run down" I find Angier's Emulsion is the surest pick-me-up. I was recommended by my doctor to get back my strength after a severe illness, and its effect was marvellous. I have taken it at intervals for several years, always deriving real and substantial benefit. When an attack of bronchitis comes on I seldom have to take many doses before I find sure relief. I feel I cannot too highly praise its merits, not the least of which is its pleasant taste, and you may be sure that I shall recommend it to all my friends. (Sd.) MISS K. PLUMSTEAD.

ANGIER'S EMULSION

ON AN EXPRESS TRAIN:
In the Land of Slowly Go.

(Specially Written for the "China Mail.")

It was on the Yau-mai ferry that I first caught sight of the train. The Greenhorn, just out from England, looked at me with wild surprise, mingled with a touch of pity. "I shall wait until she has been twelve months up-country and then I shall suddenly ask her how she would feel if she was a real live train."

I made up my mind there and then that I wanted to go on that train before I left civilization again for the interior and as the Greenhorn was glad to have a chance to see Canton we joined the other two—the Head of the Party and the Picture-maker—and sailed away one moonlight night for the City of Rams. It was a compromise that if the Country Cousin was good and went by boat one way, she should be brought back by train the other.

Early next morning we were having breakfast in a big, cool English-built house with a bower of little black-haired children, who adopted us all on the spot as new relations. And then we did the city—we saw fascinating embroideries and silks and carvings; we saw Marco Polo sitting among the plain-faced, Buddha with his income put in front of him; we saw the beautiful Ancestral Hall for the Chu clan with its hundreds of spirit tablets and little empty spaces already sold to living members of the clan. We wondered how it felt to stand there in the sunshine under those trees laden with their golden blossoms and say to one's self:—"One day, I shall be a spirit lodging in a little tablet up there on the shelf, for which privilege I have paid £140!"

Then we went back to the House of the faxen-haired Babies, and had an American pie and a real joint of meat for dinner. "I didn't say anything about the thrill of seeing a joint once more for fear the Greenhorn should despise me—I am going to wait a few months first."

The train was not leaving until 2.25 the next day, so we filled in the time by seeing for ourselves if it was really true that the missionaries lived in the lap of luxury and did nothing all day long. We went to the missionary asylum for Chinese insane, and saw the doctor cheerfully going the round of his troublesome patients, comforting one here, delighted when he provoked an almost intelligent smile on a vacant face there—always patient, always cheery, in and out amongst the 300 inmates, some of them repulsive, some of them dangerous, and others almost cured and ready to be discharged. And they one and all trusted him implicitly.

A sampan took us down to the Railway station, and the boatman with her sturdy daughters beguiled the time with details of family history, especially concerning the funeral expenses incurred in the interment of "Him." Then we followed "Her" up the steps along a street, round a corner into a really-truly station with ticket collectors and platforms. And the train! We were politely invited to step a visit to the Customs shed and have our baggage examined by a kindly official, who had all our little packages labelled with great care. The Head of the Party produced a string bag, but it got off-foot-free on the assurance that it only contained bread and butter! The Picture-maker was very conscientious—"But you haven't looked inside our things," he suggested gently. The official smiled on our obviously weak and handless—"We trust you," he said generously, and we walked on towards the platform. Then! The engine whistled, the train jerked and edged and we were off. My ticket was No. 177. I had rather it had been No. 1, but still No. 177 is quite young for a railway ticket and I wished I could have kept it. A cold grey mist settled down and the breeze whistled through our second-class carriage. It might have been England, except when the Chinese boy came round with a leather brush to dust the seats.

We sped along. Sometimes it was Scotland, with misty grey-green mountains; now and then it was Surrey, with a stretch of common, and clumps of "sycamore" here and there; and then again it was truly China with pagodas and great rice fields, and villages where the houses, snuggled close together and great trees throw their protecting branches over the gaily little temples.

Here and there parties of women who had come out to see the sight, stood by the big paper "umbrellas" and gaped with wonder at the shrieking monster flue by. Shriek it did and that incessantly, but we hardly wondered when we saw how often the country pathways wandered unprotected across the line in a most promiscuous fashion. The little stations were full of life—passengers and sightseers jostled each other everywhere and a small boy in brass buttons swelled with importance as he struck the bit of suspended railway line, which gave forth a feeble warning to late comers that the train was about to depart. Darkness fell and we caught only vague glimpses of hill-sides and knee-deep gorges—then nothing could be seen.

Only one Englishman travelled in our compartment and he took it all as calmly as if he were just running up to town from Croydon or Norwood.

Finally we came to a standstill at a big platform—Kowloon, of course. "So we all bundled out with bags and parcels and umbrellas, to find, just as the train was departing, that we were standing on Hung Hom Station! The Picture-maker, being a woman of spirit, made a dash for the train, but she was promptly hauled off much to her indignation. You can't jump on to trains after you have lived several years in the Far East and the Country Cousin wasn't going to be stranded alone in the dark in this weird place. Four indignant and forlorn travellers turned on the patient clerk—"Why didn't you stop the train?"—"I am sorry, Madam, but it is impossible to stop the train."

But he did his best for us and before long we were trundling along in accustomed fashion in the old familiar rickshaws—and my head hasn't stopped whirling yet! I didn't know anything could move so fast as that train in the Land of Slowly Go.

NOTES FROM AMOY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

AMOI, Oct. 21.

S.M.S. Jaguar, gunboat, Captain Vaselew, arrived on 15th Oct. from Poochow, and left again on Thursday 19th inst., for Swatow and Hongkong.

The Chinese Cruiser Chu Kwan, Capt. T. N. Woo, has been in port since 15th Oct. and is still here.

H.M.S. Minotaur, Captain Cayley, arrived on Tuesday morning from Tsingtau, and will leave on Monday for Mirs Bay and Hongkong.

Three tennis matches between the officers of H.M.S. Minotaur and Kulang were played on Wednesday. The ship was represented by Ward and Anshelm, Gast and Cox, and Steele and Priestley. The opposing six representing Kulang were: Wallace and Campbell, Jonsland and Untoro, Rickett and Goodson. Each pair played three times, the best of three sets, and some most interesting tennis resulted. The result was a win for the Kulang men, with a balance of 13 games; H.M.S. Minotaur 68.

A football match was played yesterday afternoon, Amoy v. the Officers of H.M.S. Minotaur, when the latter won by 2 goals to nil. This being the first game of the season, some of the play was very ragged, there was little attempt at combination among the forwards. The first goal came from a penalty and was scored by Asa. Paymaster Annaham, who later on obtained the second goal for his side. The match was keenly contested throughout, and with a little luck the result would probably have been a draw. Amoy was represented by Richardson, goal, Thomas, Jonsland, backs; Allen, Rickett, Denniston, halves; Brownlee, Brown, Campbell, Chapman, McFall, forwards.

THE Bachelors of the Amoy Club gave a very successful dance last night in the Club Theatre, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Through the kindness of Captain Cayley and the officers, the band of H.M.S. Minotaur provided the music, which was very much enjoyed and appreciated. The floor was in splendid condition, and dancing continued without cessation until the early hours.

Among the visitors were Mrs. Batherland of Hongkong, and Mrs. H. W. Livingston, from Poochow, who are here for several weeks.

THE YARN MARKET.

Messrs Polishwalla and Kotwall, Cotton and Yarn Brokers, report:

Since the issue of our last report on the 15th instant by a.s. Delhi our market has undergone a complete change. Owing to the revolution in the north of China, fresh business has been very much restricted, while hitherto and at the close it is absolutely at a standstill. A satisfactory feature of the situation, however, is that clearances of old contracts have been very brisk, though in the last day or two some apprehension is felt among the Chinese of grave developments in the Southern provinces which is bound to have the effect of restricting deliveries.

In view of the serious aspect of affairs in China, and the steady fall of American cotton, prospects for some months to come

SCULLING.

How Barry Beat Fogwell.

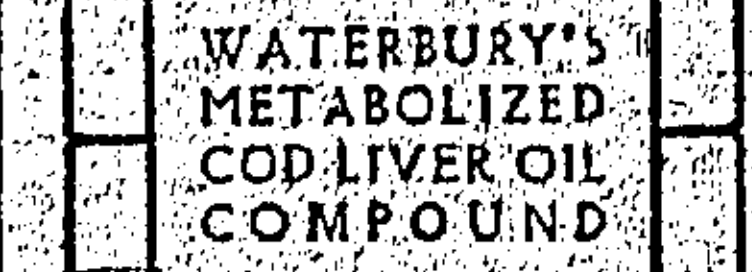

When Barry defeated Fogwell in the sculling race for the championship of England on the Thames there was a large crowd of spectators ashore and about, whilst three steamers followed the race. Fogwell won the heat and took the Mid-diesex station. The tide was fast and there was a following wind. The Australian was the quicker away, and he was clear of his opponent at the end of a minute. He led by two lengths and a half at the mile post. Barry, however, was sculling beautifully and without any apparent effort he drew nearly level at Crabtree's, where Fogwell was troubled by the rough water. The Englishman then took the lead and at Guyon's he was three lengths to the good. From this point the race resolved itself into a procession. Barry was eight lengths ahead at Barnes Bridge, and from there he paddled home leisurely in front of Fogwell, who, although he showed signs of having rowed a gruelling race, was not unduly distressed. The official verdict was, a three and a half length victory for Barry. The time for the four miles and a quarter was 22min. 4sec.

Barry, when interviewed regarding the race, said that he attributed his victory to his body swing. "He had never, he remarked, met a more genuine sportsman than Fogwell. Barry added that he was prepared to meet R. Armit on the Thames if he was financially supported. The newspapers generally regard the result of the race as a triumph for the English style of rowing. Barry's long, well-sprung body stroke, bending the challenger's short, quick arm pull. Fogwell's style, they state, gives him an advantage over short distances, but it is of no use on the long Putney-Mortlake course. "Fogwell showed himself to be as game as a pibble," the "Sportman" remarks, "but he was outclassed. He sculled like a good two-miler. Barry is underrated in Australia. He undoubtedly did not show his best form on the Thames in his race with Armit."

The freight wharves along the Hooghly are at present a great sight to behold. Long delayed shipments of every description are now arriving from Liverpool and London, having been held up by the recent strike, and the Calcutta shipping agencies are having strenuous times in handling the congested cargo. The warehouses are piled high with boxes, while each arriving steamer from Home, adds to the shipments already in. A special corps of clerks and labourers are rushing the work of handling the goods and turning the consignments over to their proper destinations.

WHAT NERVOUS PEOPLE SHOULD EAT.

A SIMPLE ARRANGEMENT OF THE DIET SCHEME.

ONE of the most difficult problems confronting the nervous sufferer or his physician is what to eat. The reason is that people with nervous constantly suffer from nervous dyspepsia, a condition which is generally very difficult to cure. Two facts stand out as perfect clearness in these cases. The first is that red meat of all kinds should be absolutely ruled out of the diet scheme, as being very much too stimulating for the nervous system.

The second is that from the remaining "list" of foods those should be selected which are bland in their nature and easily digestible. Prominent among them are milk products, and especially among milk products is Sanatogen. It is composed of the body-building portion of pure cow's milk, chemically combined with phosphorus in the exact form in which it is found in the nervous system. It is digested with the utmost ease and rapidity, and is assimilated without the least trouble and in the shortest possible time.

The result is that very soon after it has been taken it affects the whole nervous system so advantageously, that the nervous sufferer becomes conscious of an unusual and altogether unaccustomed sensation of energy, a feeling of vitality and a sense of vigour to which he had long been a stranger. Unlike the stimulation produced by alcohol, this does not wear off with more or less rapidity, but persists for a long time, while he is followed by no reaction, as in the case with alcohol, which makes the nerves seem more "on end"—to use a common expression—than before.

Sanatogen, in short, is the ideal food for nervous sufferers, and it has the additional advantage that it aids the digestion of other foods. In this way it further improves the nutrition of the body, which is invariably in a poor condition among nervous sufferers. It thus plays a double part, each of which reinforces the other, so that the result never fails to be, in the highest degree, beneficial. Indeed, in proportion to the lassitude from which nervous people always suffer in the tropics, is the sense of mental exhilaration and physical well-being which the regular use of Sanatogen ensures.

What it is capable of doing is strikingly shown by what is said in the case of Madame Sarah Grand, the distinguished English novelist, who writes: "Sanatogen has done everything for me which it is said to do for nervous debility and chronic tiredness. I began to take it three times a day after nearly four years enforced idleness from extreme debility, and now (after only four months) I find myself able to enjoy both work and play again, and am able to do as much of both as I ever did."

Sanatogen can be obtained at all chemists.

A REVOLUTIONARY MANIFESTO.

PART II.

We continue to-day the translation of the proclamation issued by the Revolutionists which formed the subject of Thursday evening's leading article:—

"Ever since the days of the Tai Ping, who rose in rebellion in the south against whom the Manchus let loose their robber leaders, and with whom they met in deadly conflict—there have not been sufficient funds to meet the needs of the army. Therefore, the lekin impost was laid upon the people. The very smallest items were taxed, and business was harassed and worried. Everything at once rose in price. But when peace was restored, not only was the tax continued, but additions were imposed. The officials soon found that it was a source of great wealth, and so they looked upon it as a means of fattening themselves. They bestirred themselves, and scooped in their gains. There were no more peaceful days, business could not prosper and flourish. All internal intercommunication was hindered and made more difficult. This is the sixth count against the Manchu Government."

"Since the days when intercommunication was first established with foreign nations, the Manchus have failed to understand the principles of this intercommunication, and, therefore, they have been embroiled in wars and calamities. They have sacrificed the lives of their soldiers and have brought disgrace upon their country. In addition to all this, bad enough as it is, they have further been compelled to pay big indemnities. After the war with Japan the Government had to pay four hundred million dollars. After the Boxer rising affairs were much worse. The indemnity then demanded, including interest, amounted to nine hundred million dollars. But the central Government had no funds wherewith to pay these sums, and so the burden was laid upon the shoulders of the provincial governments, who were called upon to pay it in instalments. This gave the Viceroy and Governors an opportunity to make something for themselves. They at once increased the number of things taxed, and so fleeced the people, to enrich themselves. From firewood, oil, rice and salt onwards to wine and other things, nothing escaped, but all was heavily taxed. Those who lived on land had to pay taxes on their houses; those who lived afloat were taxed for their boats, until the people could not carry their burdens. Revolutions sprang up everywhere. Then soldiers were sent to suppress these uprisings; these soldiers swept away whole villages, by sword and fire, and the land was laid bare. They thought that there must be severity. But when one thinks of these things one's hair stands on end. This is the seventh count against the Manchus."

"They have widely borrowed foreign money; they have used this money extravagantly. The interest has accumulated to more than the principal. It is piled up mountains high. Yet there seemed to be no anxiety. Moreover, each official has been allowed to borrow. Each has also been allowed to squander the money as he willed and no balance sheets were issued. The more that entered the treasury the more empty it seemed to be. If, on the other hand, we look upon the monetary transactions of other countries, as England, America, and Japan, can it be said that these do not borrow? But then their accounts are clear, and the principles that guide them correct. Though there may be some limitations, the gain is great. There is nothing like the financial confusion that obtains in China. This is the way things have been done in the past, and so the country has gradually become more weak. This is the eighth count against the Manchus."

"Like a fisherman fishing for fish, and a miner digging for gold they have been in the past, and yet there has been no tinge of shame upon their cheeks. They have issued bonds, and so have induced the people to exchange their money for these bonds. They have forced the people to buy these things for money, and then they have repudiated what they have promised, so no faith can be placed in the word of the Government. They have cheated at all times to gain wealth, and could never be relied upon. This is the ninth count."

"All within the four seas have been driven hither and thither, and have no place to rest in. They roll over into ditches and dykes. But in the halls of secluded palaces there is every kind of luxury, and unbridled extravagance. Each day is worse than its predecessor. We have now been able to look into the accounts. From the year of the war with Japan to the time of the Boxer outbreak the 1700 million was being laid out, and every year there was spent not less than three millions. On the occasion of the sixtieth birthday of the Empress, money was sent in in fabulous sums. When the Dowager wanted to go to Tientsin to review the troops, Yung Lu issued bonds to the amount of six million dollars. The year after the Boxer rising, when the Empress returned to Peking, more than twenty millions were spent by her, and thereafter huge sums were devoted to preparing her palaces and places of amusement. When the EMPRESS DOWAGER reached her seventieth year, the festivities cost thirteen million taels, besides what the provincial Viceroys sent in as presents; which were really bribes for winning her favour, by which they hoped to purchase preferment. The extravagances of one person alone during these years cost the country ninety million taels and more. If the years that have passed since that date are scanned, and the expenditure looked into it will be found that the same thing has been going on. The old and the weak have been flung into ditches and watercourses, and the young and strong have been held in fetters, and the whole of this has been done that those who live within places may lead a life of singing and dancing. This is the tenth count that we bring against the Manchu Government."

Our readers will have observed that the gravamen of the whole indictment is the imposition of heavy taxation and the wasteful expenditures of the ruling power. Is history repeating itself? The French revolution was brought about through the economic despair of the French people. Will the reform of China be due to the same cause? Of course all the facts detailed above are familiar to every modern observer of Chinese affairs who has cared to look into the subject and nowhere are they set out in clearer light than in "China under the Empress Dowager," one of the most damning exposures of palace intrigue, chicanery and extravagance that has ever seen the light of day.

DEATH OF THE HON. MR. WARREN BARNES, C.M.G.

DIES WHILE PLAYING POLO.

At 6 o'clock this evening the sad news of the tragic death of the Hon. Mr. Warren Barnes, C.M.G., Colonial Secretary, was telephoned through to us.

We gather that the cause was heart failure. Mr. Barnes, while playing polo, fell dead from his pony. Surgeon Hastings of the Naval Hospital was on the ground and immediately tried to resuscitate Mr. Barnes, but failed.

STOP PRESS NEWS.

AN IMPERIALISTS SUCCESS.

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

SUNDAY, Oct. 28, 5 p.m.

The Imperialists have taken Hong Kong.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Station leave has been granted to Lieut. W. A. Hagger, 126th Baluchistan Infantry, from 30th October to 8th November, 1911, inclusive.

Their Excellencies Sir Frederick and Lady Legard leave Hongkong on November 16th to attend the Delhi Durbar. From the Straits Settlements, the Governor and Lady Evelyn Young are proceeding to Delhi.

H.E. the Governor has been pleased, under instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, to appoint Mr. De W. Freeman to be First Assistant Registrar-General and Mr. A. E. Wood to be Second Assistant Registrar-General.

INVESTITURE AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The Chinese Address to the King.

At the invitation of His Excellency the Governor and Lady Legard, a large number of the leading residents of the Colony attended at Government House on Friday afternoon to witness the investiture of the Hon. A. W. Brewin, Registrar-General, with the insignia of a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and Mr. E. H. d'Aquino, of the Stamp Department, with the I.S.O. His Excellency entered the Ball-room accompanied by His Ex. Major-General Anderson, the Hon. Mr. Warren D. Barnes, Colonial Secretary, members of the Legislative Council, Bishop Lander, and a brilliant staff of military and naval officers, and among the ladies present was Lady Legard.

Mr. Brewin was then introduced, being escorted to the dais by the Hon. Mr. Wei Yik, U.M.C.G., and the Hon. Mr. Chatham, C.M.G. In pinning the decoration on Mr. Brewin's lapel, His Excellency said he had much pleasure in performing the ceremony as it was a recognition by the Crown of the valuable services performed by the recipient during the ten years he had held his present position. During that time he had enjoyed the confidence of successive Governors and had won the affection, confidence and esteem of the Chinese community.

Mr. d'Aquino next entered the room, being escorted by Lieut.-Col. Chapman, V.D. The Governor pinned the Order of the I.S.O. on Mr. d'Aquino's coat with the remark that it was a recognition of upwards of forty-seven years faithful service in the Colony. (Applause.)

His Excellency then drew attention to a magnificent embroidered Chinese scroll in heavy Imperial yellow silk, which he said had been presented to His Majesty King George by the Chinese community, and which would be sent to London after the Delhi Durbar. It was a magnificent specimen of embroidery and needlework and together with its massive and elaborately carved blackwood case should make a striking addition to the Royal treasure house at Windsor.

Tea was afterwards served.

DINNER TO MR. E. H. D'AQUINO, I.S.O.

On Friday evening, after the investiture with the I.S.O. by H.E. the Governor, a number of his colleagues and friends, called on Mr. Eusebio Honorato d'Aquino, Senior Clerk of the Stamp Revenue Office, to tender their heartfelt congratulations on the high honours conferred by His Majesty King George V. for his long and faithful service in this colony. Mr. Aquino is the oldest public servant in the Hongkong Civil Service. He is a member of the Geographical Society of Lisbon as well as a member of the Franco-Hispano-Portuguese Academy of Tolosa, and years ago he was decorated by the late King Dom Carlos with the Order of Chivalry of San Diego for his exceptional aquatic merits.

It is well worth noting that the original revenue stamps and the dies of the Stamp Office were the designs of Mr. Aquino and the colony has a souvenir from this gentleman registered in the colonial records. In old days, when the Mint was in existence in this Colony, the design of the 50 cents piece was also by Mr. Aquino.

He is one of the oldest residents of the Colony and ever since he has been connected with various social institutions; he has been very popular especially among the Portuguese Community.

His numerous friends entertained him at a banquet on Friday night at the Club Lusitano. Mr. Leo d'Almeida e Castro, President of the Club, presided. Commanders J. J. Leite, the Portuguese Consul, the Committee of the Club, and friends numbering 40 were present. Mr. Leo d'Almeida e Castro proposed the toast of "Our guest," which was received with musical honours, after which Mr. E. H. d'Aquino proposed the toast of "The Club Lusitano as the oldest member of the Club." Mr. Leite and a few others also made very suitable addresses. A flash light photo was taken by Miss Chung after dinner.

Before the entrance of the Club to the dining hall a profusion of flowers interlarded the spaces, which were studied with electric coloured bulbs. The land of the K. O. Y. L. I. was in attendance during the evening and a most enjoyable time was spent.

CORRESPONDENCE.

HONGKONG'S PUBLIC WORKS.

(To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL.")

Sir,—The Victoria Jubilee Fountains were Hongkong's Children once. In 1887 they appeared, like Minerva, fully armed from the helmet of Jove, in their bright burnished beauty, brimming over with loyalty, and offering to all thirsty souls that cup of cold water which is likened unto good news from a far country. Now they lie grovelling in the dust, trampled under the feet of coolies, or have been transformed into futile lamp-posts without lamps; a disgrace to a succession of Directors of Public Works, their foster parents, who would all have been indelible for Cruelty to Children were the law of England in force here.

It is to be hoped that the Council will refuse to pass the vote for the D. F. W. salary until this disgrace to this loyal City, and this insult to the memory of the greatest and best beloved of our English Queens whose name the City bears, have been wiped out, either by restoring the fountains to their original condition or by affording their remains decent interment with full honours.

Another child of whose health inquiry should be made is the Baby Landing Light on Blackhead's Hill: are master mariners satisfied with the brilliance of this night light?

The dredger, a sturdy twelve-year old, costs $3,000 a year to tend whilst it cruises round its moorings accumulating barnacles: why does not Mr. Schoolmaster Beckwith set it to work to prevent these runs on the Western banks which are so irritating to the American and Japanese Mails?

The most promising although youngest child of this septuagenarian Colony is the Railway, so juvenile that its engine drivers and passengers are, according to the Manager, afraid to go home in the dark, and the local train must be put to bed and tucked up before nightfall every evening for fear the locomotive should suffer from overwork.

Is the Railway Administration so youthful as to be ignorant of the fact that in dealing with traffic facilities the supply creates the demand? If the rolling stock is deficient, why not put on a steam motor carriage, such as is used on all the English railways, and run it backwards and forwards to Taipo at least often enough to keep the rails from rusting?

If something of the sort is not done the residents of Taipo will have to buy motor cars or flying machines instead of travelling by ordinary expensive railway.

But the most important group of Hongkong's Children are the New Territories themselves, now at the critical age of 13; let us see how their education and development has been conducted.

The New Territories have given Hongkong many excellent gifts, for instance, a magnificent Water Supply, the land for a most necessary and profit promising link with the railway systems of China, an iron mine, golf links and aerodromes, room to expand, space for the exercise of ships and a sense of security from landward attack.

In return the Colony has suppressed robbery, has made one North and South road, and is making one East and West road, and has collected taxes and premia from land sales with great regularity.

In 1910 the Revenue from the New Territories was $241,000, in 1912 the Expenditure upon the New Territories (excluding any share of the cost of the Central Government) is estimated at about $178,000, including District and Land Offices and Public Works ordinary and extraordinary, and allowing $50,000 for Police, $3,747 for Education and $204 for a caretaker-cook at Taipo; so, even if $48,211 be added for Military Contribution, it might be said that Master New Territory is being "squeezed" by his elder brethren of dollars as well as of water and land.

Taipo and the trans-shipments nerve-centres (as indicated by Police Stations) are being linked by roads, but the communications with Sai Kung, Hang Hau, Tai Wan and all the islands are still in much the same primitive condition as when the Last of the Sungs sat on the big boulder on the foot of one of the Nine Dragons, gazing with despairing eyes on the South Eastern most corner of his lost Empire.

During the crush at St. Francis railway station on the departure of the English cricket team for Australia, Mr. Warner's inner pocket was picked, the thief securing some valuable papers and the party's steamer tickets. Mr. Warner's sister-in-law also lost a diamond-studded watch.

The delivery of Congou for September shows an increase of over 500,000 lbs. against same month last year. Business this week includes a fair quantity of New Season's Black-leaf teas, at 6½d. @ 6½d., and a few parcels of fine Ningehow at about 8d. @ 1s. 3d. per lb.

The enormous island of Lantau, and the long fishing mart of Cheung Chau have indeed three Police Stations; but what is the use of a Police Station without telephone or electric communication with headquarters? How our Yankee friends must laugh at our primitive methods!

A telephone line to Cheung Chau and Tai O, a ricksha road from Sanauipo to Tai Chi Kok and Tai Wan (the former bridge over the Tai Chi Kok stream has been washed away, thanks to our vigilant Public Works Department), and a ricksha road from Ngau Shi Wan to Sai Kung and the waters of Mira Bay at Ki Ling Ho with a branch to Hang Hau—these are the most pressing works necessary to constitute the least possible system of communications.

The Tai Wan Road has only one low gap of about 350 feet to cross, and a 1 in 20 grade to the 700 feet Sai Kung Gap would involve no great engineering difficulties; each road leads to a series of most beautiful and fertile valleys teeming with native industry.

If Hang Hau were linked up it is possible that the P.M.C.O. (it is outside the jurisdiction of the M.O.H.) might be induced to visit that busy little fishing port and note how typhoid germs are cultivated and typhoid carrying flies bred in the untrained village sewer at whose mouth the village pigs and urinals root together on the filthiest of shorewards, happily ignorant of the fact that a most up to date scientific Sanitary Board is talking about rats just the other side of the hill.

A few bags of Green Island Cement mixed with some of the local boulders broken up small, and this pestiferous nuisance, which is probably typical of many New Territory Villages under the British Flag,

THE WAR MORE FIGHTING.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Reuter's correspondent at Tripoli wires that the Turks and Arabs attacked the Italian lines at Misry and Bumeiana on the morning of the 23rd instant.
They advanced to within a score of yards of the defenders under a heavy fire, and were repulsed with great loss.

SLOW BUT SURE.

Reuter's correspondent at Malta wires that it is now stated that there will be no Italian advances till a further 15,000 troops arrive.

ITALIAN LOSSES.

The Italian losses in the street-fighting which took place while suppressing Monday's outbreak in the town totalled 180.

SLAUGHTER OF ARABS.

The houses to house search for arms continued, and between 40 and 50 Arabs are being shot daily.

ARAB TREACHERY LEADS TO SWEEPING MEASURES.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 28.
Reuter's correspondent telegraphing from Rome says that fully a thousand Arabs and Turks were killed in yesterday's fight. This was proportionate to the number wounded.
The Italian losses were about one hundred killed and wounded.
Some Italian losses were again due to treacherous shots from the rear, consequently all the villages and huts in the oasis are being burned and the inhabitants removed to the town.
Two hundred were deported to-day to the Tremi Islands, rocky islets in the Adriatic.
Details show that yesterday's attack on Tripoli was well planned and vigorously executed. It was repulsed after prolonged and severe fighting.
Reconnaissance by aeroplanes greatly assisted the Italians in revealing the whereabouts of the enemy, thereby enabling the artillery and warships to intervene effectively.

RAILWAYMEN'S WAGES RAISED.

COUNTERMOVE TO UNIONS. Higher Freight Rates Cause Protest of Merchants.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 28.
The Railway companies throughout Great Britain have decided to increase the rates of pay of the lower grade men.
This is evidently a counter-stroke to the railwaymen's agitation for a strike against the Railway Commission's findings.
Doubtless this will mean higher passenger and freight rates, which the Government promised to sanction.
British merchants and consignees are already protesting against the raising of rates and say that presently the nation will be struggling against excessive charges.

THE SUGAR CONVENTION.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
The Sugar Convention has met at Brussels to discuss an application by Russia to be allowed to export 400,000 tons annually instead of 200,000 tons.

THE DURBAR.

THE REBELLION.

A WEAKENING THRONE.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Reuter's Peking correspondent wires that an Imperial edict orders the release from custody of the President of the Szechuen Assembly and other leaders of the rioting at Chengtu, and the punishment of Chao Erh Peng and Wan Jan Wen, the present and past viceroys of Szechuen.
Chinese papers report that the troops at Chengtu have mutinied and killed Chao Erh Peng.

FOOCHOW FALLEN.

It is officially stated that Foochow has fallen.

"UTTER SURRENDER."

Reuter's correspondent at Peking says that the dismissal of Sheng Kung Pao, President of the Ministry of Communications, who is identical with Cheng Shuan-Huai, whose impeachment was demanded by the National Assembly on the 24th inst., constitutes the utter surrender of the Government.
Foreigners regard Sheng as an enlightened and capable official.
His successor, Tang Shao Yi, is a partisan of Yuan Shih Kai.

REBEL LEADER'S NOTIFICATION.

LATER.
Reuter's correspondent at Peking reports that Li Yuan Chang, the rebel leader, has informed the Consulate that he is President of the China Republic.
This communication the Foreign Ministers have not answered.
Li proposed to administer the Customs at Changsha and other centres but, the Foreign Ministers objecting, he agreed that the revenue should remain to the credit of the Inspector-General.
The negotiations are said to reveal ability, tact and a desire to avoid misunderstanding with the foreign Powers.

SHENG KUNG PAO'S LIFE ATTEMPTED.

Americans Escort Him to Tientsin.
LONDON, Oct. 28.
Reuter's correspondent at Peking telegraphs that an attempt was made yesterday to assassinate Sheng Kung Pao, who narrowly escaped. He took refuge in the American Legation, whence ten soldiers escorted him to Tientsin.
This is the first sign that the revolutionists have reached the capital.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 28.
Reuter's correspondent at Peking wires that the British, French, German and American Ministers made representations to the Government with a view to preventing the possible decapitation of Sheng Kung Pao.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 28.
An attempt was made yesterday to assassinate Sheng Kung Pao. He took refuge in the American Legation whence he was escorted by a guard of marines to Tientsin.
LONDON, Oct. 27.
An Imperial Edict confirms the appointment of Yuan Shih Kai, who now ranks as an Imperial Minister. He proceeds to-morrow to Sin-Yangsho to take up the supreme command of the Army and Navy.

THE FATE OF YIN CHANG.

There are persistent reports of the death of General Yin Chang.

ADMIRAL SAH'S MEN.

(Wah Tsa Yat Po's Service.)
SHANGHAI, Oct. 27.
It is again reported that Admiral Sah's fleet has hoisted the white flag as an indication of its willingness to surrender.

REVOLT SPREADING.

Since the fall of Kinkiang, considerable unrest has made itself felt in the towns of Wahu, Nanking and Chingking.

BY TELEGRAPH.

As a consequence, the Government proposal to despatch the B. M. S. N. Go's steamer Kwangchi with ammunition and coal for the fleet has been cancelled, it being feared that the transport would fall into the hands of the rebels.

PERKING, Oct. 28.
An attempt has been made to assassinate His Excellency Sheng Shun Wei, late President of the Board of Communications, who was degraded on Thursday by Imperial Edict. However, he escaped unhurt and was protected by the guard at the American Legation and subsequently escorted to Tientsin.
The inhabitants of Peking are in a state of great panic and most of the families of the officials have secretly removed to Tientsin taking with them their treasures.

THE FALL OF CHIN KIANG.

PERKING, Oct. 28.
The town of Chinkiang has been taken by the rebels.

MINISTER OF WAR MURDERED.

Yin Chang, the Minister of War, was murdered by his military Secretary, Wik-lai-hin.

TROOPS MUTINY IN SZECHUEN.

VICTORY FOR THE IMPERIALISTS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
SHANGHAI, October 28, 3.30 p.m.
A wireless message from Hankow says that fighting continued during the whole of yesterday and the Imperialists were victorious.
The rebels retired to Hanyang.

YUAN SHIH KAI.

Yuan Shih Kai has been given full power over the Army and Navy.

NEW APPOINTMENTS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
SHANGHAI, Oct. 28, 3.30 p.m.
Yin Chang has been recalled to Peking. Chun-lu has been appointed to succeed the murdered Pong Shan at Canton.

Six representatives of the newly formed Protection Society of Canton arrived in Hongkong last night with the object, it is understood, of asking the leading merchants and the Chinese Press to co-operate with the society. This society was hastily formed with the object of protecting the inhabitants and property in Canton and they have requested the Viceroy not to assist any other province. It is understood that the Viceroy has consented to this.

ANOTHER AVIATOR KILLED.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.

AMERICAN STEEL TRUST. MUST BE DISSOLVED.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Reuter's correspondent at Washington wires that the Government has filed a suit at Trenton, New Jersey, for the dissolution of the Steel Trust on the ground that it is maintaining a monopoly.
The witnesses subpoenaed include Mr. Pierpont Morgan, the Rockfellers, Mr. Schwab, and Mr. Gary, most of whom are named as individual defendants.
Mr. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, and Mr. Andrew Carnegie are also individual defendants.

LATER.
At Washington it is unofficially stated that a decision in the Steel Trust case cannot be given for a triennium as such a vast volume of evidence must be taken in many cities.
President Gary has made a statement in which he says he believes the suit will be decided in favour of the Corporation because it never attempted to form a monopoly.

AMISCHIEVOUS RUMOUR DENIED.

JAPAN NOT INTERFERING.
(Independent News Agency's Service to the China Mail.)
TOKYO, Oct. 28.
The rumour that Japan is preparing to dispatch an army against the revolutionists with the purpose of helping the Chinese Government is entirely unfounded.

The Japanese Army, it is true, is preparing for the Grand Army manoeuvres, which will take place in Kyushu.
The above fact is supposed to be the source of the mischievous rumour.

HOME RULE.

LORD SELBORNE'S VIEW.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Lord Selborne, speaking at Peterborough said the resistance of Ulstermen to Home Rule could only be put down by force.
It had been said that Home Rule must be good because it had been successful in South Africa, but the very reverse happened in South Africa where the continued separation of the Colonies would have meant war.

THE COMMONWEALTH'S BUDGET.

A SUBSTANTIAL SURPLUS.
(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Reuter's correspondent at Melbourne wires that Mr. Fisher, in presenting the Commonwealth Budget statement, said the revenue amounted to £18,803,000 and the expenditure to £16,73,000.
The surplus would be assigned to old-age pensions and fleet construction.
The Imperial Government had offered a quarter of a million annually towards the maintenance of the fleet.

THE MOROCCAN QUESTION.

AGREEMENT INVOLVES TWO TREATIES.
(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Reuter learns that the Franco-German agreements will be comprised in two separate Treaties of which only the one dealing with Morocco will be formally communicated to the Powers.
Both will be signed before November 8th, when both the French and German Parliaments meet.

HOME POLITICS.

UNOPPOSED ELECTION.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)
LONDON, Oct. 27.
Mr C. E. H. Hobhouse has been returned unopposed for Bristol, East, on his appointment to the Duchy of Lancaster.

THE COMET.

It will interest a good many people in Hongkong to hear that Broke's comet is now visible in the morning sky about 6 o'clock. It rises to the east of the Galaxy, and lies below the morning star. It has rapidly increased in brightness during the past few days and can be picked up easily by the naked eye, while with a glass it is discerned quite plainly, showing a tail several yards long.

Says the Manchuria Daily News—
Something of a most serious nature must have taken place in the Chinese Army. The whole organization seems to be sitting on a hot brick. 'Rises of the blood,' spoken of on the present crisis, will look extremely depressed, overcome by some suppressed emotion.
